Q27 Please comment or add any additional health care issues you feel VMS should address.

1	I do not use EHR because I cannot afford it. I am a small physician practice. Using EHR will not help me, my patients, or my staff. I already do not accept new medicare or new medicaid patients. If I did, I'd go bankrupt! I don't know how I'll ever make it to retirement.	7/5/2012 10:28 AM
2	I believe proper should be covered or pay for their care. the loop h ole is that people can choose not to pay for it either.	7/5/2012 10:05 AM
3	VMS is not taking a strong enough and pre-emptive stand with state HC reform. Please get the Physician Policy Council going...waiting for the new legislative session only wastes precioius time.	7/5/2012 9:54 AM
4	658-4263	7/5/2012 9:46 AM
5	More support needs to be provided to community based physicians. Community physicians who care for patients in the state's largest hospital are being forced out of practice and out of the hospital environment. This will limit competition, increase "wating times" and overall decrease the quality of care available to patients. Community based specialist generally provide the same services at a lower cost.	7/4/2012 1:45 PM
6	Vermont already has high rates of insurance coverage due to our previous expansion of MCD, so I really don't think there will be a significant impact on access with universal coverage. I think the primary goals of reform should be a better coordinated system with better communication between providers, seamless transitions, continuous rather than episodic care, more patient responsibility and limited wasteful utulization. Achieving these goals is necessary to save money, but I am not hopeful that ACO's (rehashed capitated care) will have the infrastructure. Obviously the GMCB needs to collaborate with hospitals and providers, not defer to us, to achieve any of these goals.	7/4/2012 7:14 AM
7	I disagree with state mandated CME policy changes. Defer to the individual boards. Issues are better addressed by PHYSICIANS and not HOSPITALS and physicians. Hospitals are not reliable entities unto themselves in large part due to their nonprofit status and inherent lack of efficiency and motivation to become lean. Evidenced by closing services like inpatient rehab and rationing care as opposed to making systems and administrative cuts. CME pain management requirements will be ineffective and not solve the problem of prescription drug abuse	7/3/2012 9:00 AM
8	The first question on health care reform is in my mind the most important- Patients need to take responsibility for their lifestyle choices. This is a must. In addition Green mountain care board needs to realize that restricting hospital budgets will not save money. It will just create more cost shifting. See what has happened in Rutland. Our rehab unit is closing. That will not save the state any money. Those patients will still need care elsewhere, and if they get care at a nursing home where the care is clearly inferior, it will actually cost the state more money to pay for the complications that occur becuase of the inferior care.	7/1/2012 10:56 AM
9	I would like to see the VMS take a more proactive role in health care reform. I think we should have a plan and lead the legislature, rather than just react to their proposals.	6/30/2012 1:03 PM
10	although improved, reimbursement inequity between primary and specialty care is still a disincentive to students otherwise attracted to primary care.	6/15/2012 2:39 PM
11	One of the questions related to physicians and hospitals as a group. I would not lump these 2 distinct groups into one as their viewpoints often differ.	6/14/2012 2:41 PM
12	implications to the medical community of multiple ACO entities in the state. conditions of participation for Medicare of need for hospitals to verify licensure and define scope of practice for staff and non-staff ordering hospital outpatient services.	6/13/2012 10:34 PM
13	Help make the membership more comfortable with Death w Dignity, to lead rather than follow the citizenry.	6/13/2012 8:43 AM
14	I think there is enough on our plate making health care reform succeed, but long term public education about vaccines is a need that has become more obvioius.	6/13/2012 7:52 AM
15	Critical shortage of inpatient and outpatient pediatric psychiatric care	6/13/2012 6:53 AM
16	Gov. Shumlin's decision on the philosophical exemption for vaccines.	6/12/2012 10:57 PM
17	Advertising by physicians, hospitals and direct to patient drug companies	6/12/2012 8:19 PM

Vermont Medical Society 2012 Physician Survey

18	Low reimbursement from medicare and medicaid is responsible for the movement of physicians from private practice to employed status--not just administrative difficulties. Private practice will be destroyed by Health Care Reform, but I never hear this mentioned. There will not be enough employment opportunities for all the displaced physicians.	6/12/2012 7:13 PM
19	We consume too much health care for not enough added benefit in health. We are the only developed country that treats health care as a commodity and not a public service and we do not do well enough.	6/12/2012 12:57 PM
20	I did not hear much from VSMS during the physician assisted suicide legislation debates. I think we should be heard loud and clear that we do not want a law like this and it is insulting and degrading that they are trying to pass a law about what doctors do when we oppose it!	6/12/2012 11:26 AM
21	Thanks for a well structured and brief survey. i look forward to seeing the results	6/12/2012 8:44 AM
22	The high cost of end of life care. We should be able to better care for end of life patients and not spend so much of our health care resources.	6/12/2012 8:41 AM
23	liability reform is a must - no case should be filed without at least a documented plaintiff expert review (no disclosure required in VT at filing right now) - and pretrial review by medical board as in other states	6/12/2012 8:33 AM
24	Quality as well as "quantity" of care is extremely important. There are many high quality providers. I am a specialist physician at a tertiary care organization, and occasionally the lack of knowledge and the quality of care which my patients recieve deeply concerns me. I recieve phone calls from NP and PA's who are not being adequately supported and have no one to turn to for questions.	6/12/2012 7:39 AM
25	Some of the questions listed are an either / or... dummied down. i.e. universal coverage is part of a system which has a vision and a mission of delivering the best care that is possible (and appropriate) for all of our citizens	6/12/2012 7:20 AM
26	the current emphasis on a single payer health care system will have a strong negative impact on the delivery of quality care in Vermont. The inevitable decrease in provider payment will make it extremely difficult to attract high quality physicians to Vermont and will have significant negative impact on the ability of practices and hospitals to maintain state of the art equipment. As representatives of the medical community, VMS should be assuming a more forceful role in educating the public about the absurdity of a single payor system in our tiny state.	6/11/2012 9:03 PM
27	I think the VMS might be able to have a big impact at the medical student level, with programs to encourage students to enter primary care. We need to rebalance availability of PCPs and specialists. The health care reform issue is so complicated ... universal access is necessary, but in order to be able to provide it we need pretty aggressive reduction of unnecessary health care expenses. I'd like the VMS to work hand in hand with the GMCB to reach out to insurers regarding options for reallocating funds. Dr. Ramsay told me yesterday how he gets push-back when he suggests to insurers that instead of paying for their own care managers from out of state, it would make more sense for them to direct that money to the primary care practices' community health teams, so the people who contact the patients are known entities rather than one step removed from telemarketers. Outreach to physicians is really important for education about what tests actually cost, in what situations are they useful and when do they not improve care at all. It is very important for us to have some financial recognition of the care management done outside of office visits. Other high-level professionals such as attorneys are able to bill for the time they spend on phone calls, form completion, case investigation etc and it seems ridiculous that physicians are expected to do this work in addition to the office visits without additional reimbursement.	6/11/2012 4:21 PM
28	Forced to retire because of punitive action by Vermont Board of Medical Practice in the absence of any patient complaints or adverse effects. I did not have a lawyer. Many Vermont Physicians will be retiring early because of the creative destruction going on in our healthcare delivery system which will hopefully improve over time. Currently, the chart is more important than the patient which is incredibly detrimental to the doctor-patient relationship. I used to be sorry that none of my children chose medicine as a profession. Now I am grateful. The citizens of our state and our country are going to have to learn to treat their bodies with more respect.	6/11/2012 1:15 PM
